NOW IN FULL COLOUR this NEBOSH Study Book meets the current syllabus and format of the qualification for the NEBOSH Certificate in Fire Safety and Risk Management: Units FC1 and FC2.

This guide will provide an excellent reference for all those with management responsibility in fire safety to help enable them to ensure that their organisation meets its legal duties and safeguards its people and its business.

The publication's text is directed to exam needs with practical explanations, and is structured to reflect the order, content and level of understanding required by this syllabus. Students studying for examination will find the sample questions, answers and practical assessment report of particular use. This essential reference source now benefits from a more detailed level of indexing, making it even easier to access information on your chosen topic.

The guide meets the Employment National Training Organisation (ENTO) standards for health and safety at NVQ Level 3. Includes the essential requirements of the Department for Communities and Local Government Guidance to the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 at a level appropriate to this course of study and qualification.

The syllabus was developed in conjunction with IOSH's (the Institution of Occupational Safety and Health) Specialist Fire Risk Management group and is based on National Occupational Standards for Fire Safety at Level 3, which has common units with the Emergency Fire Services National Occupational Standards.

An appropriate source of information for those moving into Fire Safety Advisor roles; enables them to carry out fire risk assessments of most low risk workplaces and identify the range of fire protective and preventative measures required. Fire Service Personnel will also find the publication of benefit in developing their underpinning knowledge as part of the Integrated Personal Development System. Students studying for NEBOSH Certificate in Fire Safety and Risk Management and similar qualifications, will find this book particularly useful.
