The wisdom conveyed in "The Four Agreements" stems from an ancient people called the Toltec who lived thousands of years ago in South Mexico. The Toltec, also known as "women and men of knowledge," were scientists and artists who had formed a society to conserve the spiritual knowledge of their ancestors and to protect it from European conquest and misuse. Ruiz grew up in rural Mexico following the Toltec tradition himself. His mother was a Toltec faith healer and his grandfather was a nagual (shaman). To be Toltec is a way of life. It is a way of life where there are no leaders and no followers.
